THRILLS AT HENDON

Air Force Pageant

London, June 28.

A rehearsal of to-morrow's Royal Air Force pageant took place to-day in the presence of a large party of school children.

The precision with which the events succeed one another is one of proudest achievements of these displays, and, as usual, the programme was strictly adhered to. For example, six huge flying boats from Felixstowe arrived over the aerodrome precisely to time, and another event demanding nice timing and high efficiency is that of discharging sixteen parachutes on to the aerodrome from two Virginia planes. The schedule allows only five minutes for them to make their approach, drop their parachutes from a height of 1,000 feet and make their way leisurely out of the arena.

The authorities were completely satisfied with the way in which the widely varied events are fitted into a rigid time-table.—British Wireless.

FRENCH SENATE ADJOURNS

Urgent Measures Approved

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Paris, June 29.

The Chamber and Senate adjourned for the summer recess at 4 o'clock this morning, after the Chamber had approved of a number of bills of urgent character. In order to facilitate the session the Government at the last minute withdrew the demands for supplementary credits for the army, navy and aerial defence.

This, it is declared, was due to the fact that the President of the Finance Committee of Senate, M. Caillaux, definitely refused to discuss during a late night session such an important matter as credits for the defence of the country.

When announcing the decision M. Laval said that the Government was not withdrawing the bill but was merely postponing the debate, as the lack of time prevented the passage of the bill by the Senate that night. The security of France, the Premier assured the House, was not prejudiced by the postponement, since the Government was authorised by the empowering bill and the law of 1929 to take measures to incur expenditure necessary for the purposes of national defence, which must merely later be sanctioned by Parliament.

The Premier thus reserved his declaration on the inner political situation, stressing the importance of the task before the Government, which he promised would leave nothing undone in the discharge of its duty.—Transocean Kuo Min

LAVAL'S POWERS

Paris, June 29.

Vested with dictatorial authority to save the franc, M. Laval has bidden farewell to the Chamber for the summer recess.

The Government unexpectedly withdrew its demand for the £40,000,000 additional credits for the defence services, requisitioned last Thursday. It attributed this to pressure on Parliamentary time, but it is expected that the additional expenditure will be enacted by a decree under the emergency powers granted.—Reuter.

NEW ITALIAN ARMY DIVISIONS

Rome, June 29.

The official "Gazette" announces the "temporary" formation of two new army divisions.

LORD ESSENDON

And Big Shipping Scheme

London, June 28.

A rationalisation scheme for shipping was discussed in a speech by Lord Essendon, well-known British shipowner, in a speech before the International Chambers of Commerce Congress in Paris to-day. The scheme, as drafted by the International Shipping Conference, provides for the laying up or scrapping of tonnage which is temporarily or permanently in excess of requirements, and to do this, as far as possible, through voluntary efforts of shipowners.

Lord Essendon explained that the body administering the scheme was not intended to exercise control over shipping businesses or to determine the requirements of each different trade. This Corporation would determine what compensation would suffice to induce owners to withdraw sufficient tonnage to adjust supply to demand. On that basis, dues would be fixed and collected from all vessels through the machinery of Governments, whose cooperation would be limited to functions of collecting the tax accepted in advance by industry.

FIXED COMPENSATION

The money thus obtained would be paid into an international pool and from this would be provided compensation at a rate fixed by the Corporation to any shipowner who found it advantageous to lay up or scrap rather than trade. Compensation would be adjusted at a level sufficient to make laying up attractive.

It was estimated that there are 45,000,000 gross tons of effective competing tonnage engaged in international trade and that the laying up or scrapping of 9,000,000 tons would be more than sufficient to achieve the objects the Conference has in view. The position would probably be met by annual due of 1/3d per gross ton, equivalent to about 2/0d per net ton, on 36 million gross tons trading, yielding about £2,250,000 available as compensation, which, in turn, would yield approximately 5/0d gross ton and 8/0d per net ton as compensation for 9,000,000 tons laid up or scrapped. Regarding subsidies, which was a matter for the Governments, Lord Essendon suggested that the prospect of successful rationalisation would be increased if it were understood that the Governments would not increase those at present in operation. As the effect of rationalisation began to be felt and shipping was once more able to pay its way, the need for subsides would diminish. It might then be found that the Governments concerned could afford to modify or even abolish them.—British Wireless.

BRITISH EXPERT'S MISSION

American Interest

Washington, June 29.

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, in a statement to a press conference made what is considered to be an open invitation to Sir Frederick Leith-Ross to enter into conversations with him at Washington, but did not hint whether he had in mind the prospect of international currency stabilisation.

Questioned regarding the report that Sir Frederick Leith-Ross was planning to visit Washington en route to China, Mr. Hull said that naturally there could not be too many exchanges of ideas and information, especially by the leading authorities of economics and finance. He assumed that everybody would be glad to participate in such exchanges.—Reuter.

The Senate has passed the bill already approved by the Chamber, ratifying the preliminary Franco-Soviet trade treaty and also a decree excepting goods of Soviet Russian origin from the special currency depreciation supplementary duty.

M. le Troquer, rapporteur of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Senate, supporting the bill, advocated the opening of negotiations about the pre-war Russian debt and the property confiscated from French nationals by the Soviet.—Transocean Kuo Min.

The World's Finest Tires

Extra mileage, extra safety and extra value—you could not ask more of a tire than these. They represent all that is best in tire construction—and account for the leadership of ROYALS in every corner of the world.

1. MILEAGE . . . Think of how tempered steel compares with ordinary steel—and then you will understand the advantages of "Tempered Rubber" over ordinary Rubber. It is this tough, specially compounded rubber in the tread, and the extra thickness of the tread, that keeps ROYALS on the wheels of your car thousands of miles after ordinary tires would be worn out and thrown away.

2. SAFETY . . . The makers of ROYALS have worked hard to help reduce accidents caused by skidding and blow-outs. The massive blocks that make up the ROYAL tread have the same sure grip on the road as cogs on a cog wheel. And beneath the tread—right through to the heart of the tire—strong cotton cords and rubber are combined in an exclusive manner that makes blow-outs almost impossible.

3. EXTRA VALUES . . . Unless you have driven on ROYALS these "extra values" may come as a surprise. You will find that ROYAL tires are so good looking they improve the appearance of your car. And perhaps more important—they give such excellent service that you can be proud to tell your friends, "I always drive on ROYALS."

Ask for "ROYALS" the next time you buy!

GEN. GAMELIN'S ROME VISIT

Press Conjectures

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Paris, June 29.

General Gamelin's visit to Rome, where the French Commander-in-Chief conversed with Signor Mussolini and with the Italian Commander-in-Chief, is commented on with marked reserve by the Paris press.

The usualy well-informed Rome correspondent of the "Le Matin" sent a message of an apparently semi-official character, saying that the French Government despatched General Gamelin to Rome in 1 agreement with the Italian Government to discuss with the competent military quarters the question of eventual co-operation between the army forces of the two countries.

The correspondent goes on to say that the Anglo-German naval agreement has given rise, alike in Rome and Paris, to the feeling that it is indispensible to tighten the bond of common policy and strategy, with a view to the defence of the frontiers of both France and Italy.

Nevertheless, so the correspondent stresses, it may be affirmed that no project concerning a military convention has been under consideration in the course of General Gamelin's conversations, just as little of the air pact came up for consideration during the recent stay in Rome of the French Air Minister, General Denain.—Transocean Kuo Min.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN HOLLAND

[Special to the "Hong Kon Daily Press" (Copyright).

Amsterdam, Ju..e 28.

The quite unexpected results of the Municipal elections held throughout Holland in the last few days were attributed largely to the fact that the National Socialists did not participate in the contest. In Amsterdam, the Marxists who hitherto held only 21 seats, consequently in the minority, came out of the struggle with 25 seats out of 45, hence are now in the majority, this being the first time they have ever been in the controlling force.

The Communists polled 48,985 votes against 6,235 in 1931, thus capturing four seats instead of three. The Social Democrats on the other hand scored 19,911 against 194,286, and their seats increased from 16 to 17.

The Marxists' gains were at the expense of the Bourgeois parties, Democrats, Liberals, Christian Historicals and anti-revolutionists, who each lost 1 seat.

In most of the other towns in Holland, the results were similar, except in the Hague where the votes lost by the Bourgeois were won by the Right parties. The Press blames the new electoral system for the anomalous result. The "Telegraf," for instance, points out that the Marxists in Amsterdam, who polled only 49 points, 9 per cent. of the votes cast, nevertheless carried 25 seats out 45.—Transocean Kuo Min

TREATY VIOLATION

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Geneva, June 28.

The sub-committee of the League of Nations Council for the study of the legal questions connected with the prevention of violation of the treaties, concluded its labours on Friday but published no report yet, because agreement on a certain essential matter was not attained.

From the League of Nations Secretariat, the Press learned that the Committee members were at one merely on the principle that measures should be taken against the states that break treaties in-so-far as the scope of the League of Nations' convenant provides, but no agreement was reached on the far more important question on whether the League of Nations must decide such sanctionary measures unanimously or by the vote of simple majority.

The Russian and French delegates advocated the decision by mere majority whereas all the others demanded the retention of the principle of unanimity.—Transocean Kuo Min.

CHINA AND JAPAN

Relations Of Other Powers

London, June 29.

The relations of the Western Powers with China and Japan were discussed at the national peace congress attended by thousands of delegates from all parts of the country, held at the Friends' House, Euston Road, today.

The former Cabinet Minister, Mr. Wedgwood Benn, said that Russia and the United States were intensely preoccupied with home affairs, but it would be a mistake to suppose that Russia would take it lying down if things happened in the Far East.

"The most attractive thing about China is the culture," he continued. "China is the only country which is 100 per cent. qualified to be a member of the League of Nations. The world is full of a renaissance of the most objectionable kind, but the cardinal points of the Chinese renaissance are reason, right conduct, just discrimination and integrity. I should like Herr Hitler's comments on these as the motivisation of a renaissance.

"Japan says that a united and prosperous China is her main interest. It seems inconceivable that a united and prosperous China would tolerate the treatment she is at present receiving from Japan."

Mr. Wedgwood Benn said that the positions of the great Powers were: America, an attitude of benevolent interest; Russia, an unquestioned desire for peace: Japan, a budgetary deficit.

"Bankruptcy is the most useful camp-follower of peace. In China reconstruction is undoubtedly proceeding and unity is growing."—Reuter.

POTSDAM UNDERGOES TRIAL

Bremen, June 28.

The trial trip of the new express steamer "Potsdam" destined for the Norddeutscher Lloyd Far-Eastern service proved completely successful, the vessel, meeting easily all speed tests and showing excellent sea-going behaviour.

The Norddeutscher Lloyd took possession of the steamer from the builders, Blohmund Voss on Friday at midday. Among the guests present was the Lord Mayor of Potsdam, the town after which the vessel has been named.

The chairman of the shipping company, Doctor Firle gave the ship into the charge of Captain Arndt whereupon a telegram was despatched to Herr. Hitler acquainting him, that the "Potsdam," the first commercial steamer to bear this historic name, after satisfying all expectations, had been put into service.—Transocean Kuo Min.

NEW BILL

Against Bondholders

Washington, June 28.

The Administration's Bill to deny holders of Government Securities the right to claim damages by court action as a result of the dollar's devaluation, was introduced to-day by Representative Steagall to the House Banking Committee, following President Roosevelt's special message to Congress yesterday in which he urged the immediate passage of this measure.

Mr. Steagall said the Bill would be taken up by the Banking Committee on Monday and reported to the House after about two days of hearings.

The Bill declares that no holder of any United States money or securities can claim to have suffered any damage as a result of measures taken by the Government in following its monetary programme. Reuter.

KREML GUARDS UNDER ARREST

Moscow, June 28.

The rumour current a few days ago that many members of the Kreml Guard had been arrested is now semi-officially confirmed, the number being given as twenty-eight.

They will be tried behind closed doors by the Military Tribunal of the Supreme Court on charges of counter revolutionary activities and relations with anti-Soviet elements, lack of discipline and breaches of duty regulations.

Their places have now been filled by specially picked men. Reports received here of the arrests of Party members on similar charges in other parts of the Soviet Union appear to indicate that a new campaign against "counter revolutionary" elements is now under way.—Transocean Kuo Min

"FIRE CROSSERS" MEET

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Paris, June 28.

Colonel de la Roque, leader of the French War veterans Union, known as "Croix de Feu" or "Fire Crossers" which recently has been more and more frequently prominent in public demonstrations, made an important declaration to the "Petit Parisien" about the aims and hopes of this movement.

De la Roque points out that the movement was gathering momentum from month to month, the membership in February 1934 numbering only 30,000, and today it was 320,000, not to mention the crowds of friends, well-wishers and unregistered members.

La Roque denies that he worked up the agitated feeling among his followers, declaring that this was due to the influence from the Left. However, Roque admitted that his followers were prepared for all emergencies should Governmental authority fail.

The leader then added that the "Fire Crossers" wanted nothing but peace and would attack only the red revolutionaries. De la Roque declined to say that his aim was the seizure of political ower but he said, if events themselves brought this about, he would accept the responsibility which he had no reason to sh in.—Transocean Kuo Min.

MR. BALDWIN TAKES OVER

A Reshuffling Of The Government

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

Mr. MacDonald resigned the office of Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury and Mr. Baldwin accepted the King's invitation to fill the position. The names of the new Cabinet were announced later in the evening. Mr. MacDonald remains in the Cabinet as Lord President of the Council.

Sir John Simon becomes Home Secretary, and Sir Samuel Hoare Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. Lord Hailsham is Lord Chancellor, Lord Halifax Secretary of State for War, and Lord Zetland Secretary of State for India. Mr. J. H. Thomas continues at the Dominions Office.

Lord Sankey, Sir John Gilmour, and Sir Hilton Young, who has been created a Peer, retire from the Cabinet. The new Cabinet Ministers are Lord Zetland, Lord Eustace Percy, Mr. Eden, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, and Mr. Ernest Brown. Major Tryon has been appointed Postmaster-General but without a seat in the Cabinet.

It is doubtful whether the process of reconstructing a British Cabinet has ever been carried out with greater expedition than was the present case. It was not until 3.45 in the afternoon that Mr. MacDonald, who had spoken in the House of Commons earlier in the day on the question of defence against attack from the air, drove to Buckingham Palace; yet it was possible at 6 o'clock to hold a meeting of the Privy Council at which Ministers kissed hands on their appointment.

The outgoing Prime Minister remained for some time with the King after he had informed him of his desire to be relieved of the burden of his office. He did not return to 10, Downing Street until 4.45. Mr. Baldwin had been summoned to the Palace in the interval, and he left 11, Downing Street at about the time Mr. MacDonald was returning. Mr. Baldwin accepted his Majesty's invitation to fill the office of Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury, and on his return to Downing Street just before 5.15 he went into No. 10, where there was a meeting of Ministers, who, in accordance with the usual custom, placed their offices at the new Prime Minister's disposal. The three Ministers who were leaving office — Lord Sankey, Sir John Gilmour, and Sir Hilton Young—proceeded from this meeting to Buckingham Palace, where they gave up their seals of office and took leave of the King. The names of the new Cabinet were submitted to his Majesty, and at 6 o'clock there was a meeting of the Privy Council at which Mr. Malcolm MacDonald and Mr. Ernest Brown were sworn in. The whole process of reconstruction therefore was completed in ample time for the Lord President of the Council to leave for Lossiemouth at 7.30 and for the Prime Minister and the Minister of Labour to set out at 7.40 for Himley Hall, near Dudley.

THE NEW APPOINTMENT

Most of the appointments to the new Cabinet are in accordance with general anticipation, but there were a few which the political prophets had overlooked. It had been taken for granted that Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Runciman, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, Mr. Walter Elliot, and Sir Godfrey Collins would remain at their former posts. Sir Kingsley Wood has done such admirable work at the General Post Office that his promotion was assured, and with his departure to the Ministry of Health the office of Postmaster-General again loses its Cabinet status. The rumours that Mr. Thomas might leave the Dominions Office have not been substantiated, and this may be one reason why it has not been possible to give promotion to Mr. Ormsby-Gore after four years' excellent service at the Office of Works. Lord Hailsham's return to the Woolsack in place of Lord Sankey was expected, as was the appointment of Sir John Simon to the Home Office and of Sir Samuel Hoare to the Foreign Office. The satisfaction at these appointments will be tinged with regret at Westminster at the disappearance of Sir John Gilmour, who has done yeoman work as Home Secretary, and who was largely responsible for the smooth working of the Silver Jubilee arrangements.

Five new Ministers have been brought into the Cabinet—Lord Zetland, Mr. Eden, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, Lord Eustace Percy, and Mr. Ernest Brown. Lord Eustace Percy was President of the Board of Education in the Conservative Government from 1924 to 1929, but the other four Ministers enter the Cabinet for the first time. Lord Zetland's able work at the India Round-Table Conference and on the Joint Select Committee will be of the greatest value to the Government now that the India Bill has reached the Upper House. His appointment as Secretary of State for India also preserves the balance of Secretaries of State between the two Houses. He will have the co-operation of Lord Halifax, whose acceptance of the invitation to remain in the Ministry until the end of the present Parliament is greatly appreciated.

CONSERVATIVES LEAD

There will be 15 Conservative, four Liberal National, and three National Labour Ministers in the Cabinet. In August, 1931, the Cabinet consisted of four Conservatives, four National Labour, and two Liberals. After the General Election the position was:—Conservatives 11, National Labour four, Liberals three, and Liberal National two. After Sir Donald Maclean's death Lord Halifax entered the Cabinet, and the position then was:—Conservatives 12, National Labour four, Liberals two, and Liberal National two. Lord Snowden, Sir Herbert Samuel, and Sir Archibald Sinclair left the Cabinet after the Ottawa Conference, and thereafter the membership of the Cabinet consisted of 13 Conservatives (later increased to 14 by the appointment of Sir Kingsley Wood), three National Labour (Mr. MacDonald, Lord Sankey, and Mr. Thomas), and three Liberal National (Sir John Simon, Mr. Runciman, and Sir Godfrey Collins). The four Liberal National members of the new Cabinet are Sir John Simon, Mr. Runciman, Sir Godfrey Collins, and Mr. Ernest Brown, and the three National Labour Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, and Mr. Thomas.

The only Ministerial appointment announced officially outside the Cabinet is that of Major Tryon to be Postmaster-General. Promotion has been long overdue, for Major Tryon has held the office of Minister of Pensions in the Conservative Administrations since 1922 and from the formation of the first National Government.

PROTECTION OF PLANTS AND ANIMALS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, June 29.

Very cogent reasons for the promulgation of laws for the protection of animals and plants in their natural state in the Reich were advanced by the General Forestry Master, Herr von Kendell, in addressing pressmen to-day. The German landscape, he said, had been frequently devastated in past centuries through rapid industrialisation and also many unwise measures affecting forestry and agriculture. A great part of the German forests had been converted into deserts, he said, and a new danger has arisen at the present moment through the work undertaken in the campaign for the unemployed, land drainage, road building, etc.

Regulations for the whole Reich will be secured by the proposed law for the protection of nature. The landscape will be definitely preserved, and rare and beautiful flowers protected. Above all the new motor roads now under construction will be bordered throughout by beautiful trees or national forests.—Transocean Kuo Min.

FATE PLAYS A GAME

With Firemen

Shanghai, June 25.

Rubber-booted firemen at Bubbling Well Station did not mind yesterday's floods in their neighbourhood, at first. They are used to water, anyway, and except that in this case it was in the wrong place and that it seemed a pity that they had no fire to put it on, it didn't matter much.

After the floods had been there for a little time, however, passing motor-cars began to experience ignition troubles, due to water being thrown up on to the wiring. Then a few cars stopped right in front of the station, which wouldn't do at all: they were in the way of the fire engines should they have to turn out. True, it did not seem likely that they would have any fire to which to go, everything being extremely damp everywhere in Shanghai, but one never knew. So firemen lent a hand in moving broken down cars well clear of the station.

Then, at 7 p.m., "the bells went down," and two machines answered the call somewhere up Yu Yuen Road.

Slowly they left the station, for once, and crawled up the road—there was every reason for a fire-engine not to share the fate of the broken-down motor-cars. Ribald passers-by asked when the fire-floats were being brought to Bubbling Well Station. All was quiet for a few minutes, with firemen standing by to go out on extra machines if required. Then the awaited message came back, almost adding injury to insult: "motor-car fire, fire finished."

The waiting firemen dismissed. A minute or two later the two fire-engines floated back to their station.

CHAMBER CONGRESS DICUSSIONS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, June 28.

The last working day of the 8th Congress of the International Chamber of Commerce was devoted chiefly to the discussion of traffic problems and the final wording of the resolutions which will be submitted for the approval of the Congress on Saturday morning.

The chief question to which this year's Congress has devoted attention is that of the stabilisation of currencies. The United States delegates in the course of the proceedings have revised their original attitude in as much as they now declare themselves in favour of the formula at first rejected by the British, namely that stabilisation should be on a gold basis.

A number of delegates from other countries likewise modified their position on the same question taken up when Congress opened. The motion will be laid before the Plenary Session on Saturday, declaring that the stabilisation of currencies can only be effected by the restoration of the International Gold Standard.

The project of convening the Conference to discuss currency matters was abondoned because it was considered sufficient for the Congress to recommend the various Governments to prepare to carry out stabilisation by instituting mutual deliberations on the subject.—Transocean Kuo Min.

IN HIS FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

Lord Stanley's victory in the Oaks brings him his first honour in a classic race. Indeed, he has only owned two or three horses and has hitherto won no race of importance.

While Lord Derby will naturally be delighted at this evidence that his son is following in his footsteps, his pleasure must have been a little tempered.

Quashed started at long odds. Lord Derby's Coronal was second favourite. Quashed won, Coronal was fifth.

Lord Stanley has a long road to travel before he can equal his father's record as an owner of classic winners. This includes the Derby (two), the Oaks (one), the St. Leger (five), the 1,000 Guineas (four) and the 2,000 Guineas (one).

ALLOWED BY EXCEPTION

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

A Good deal of amused surprise was caused at the party at Claridge's which Miss Grace Moore Claridge's which Miss Grace Moore attended after her first appearance at Covent Garden.

This was when the band started playing, some of the music of "Anything Goes," which will be produced at the Palace Theatre next Friday.

Mr. Cochran has recently obtained injunctions against theatres and cabarets performing any of the music to this production.

Yet Mr. Cochran was among the guests at Claridge's and in no way put out at this apparent neglect of his embargo.

The reason was that Mr. Geoffrey Toye, who acted as host had previously asked Mr. Cochran to make a special exception for this party. Mr. Cochran did so.

MUCH MISREPRESENTED

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

Contrary to the impression one usually gets from stage productions of "Hamlet," the castel of Elsinore is anything but a gloomy place.

Indeed, it answered well, when the writer visited it, to a Danish friend's description as a siren in the sun.

To-morrow afternoon in the Castle a Scandinavian broadcast demonstration under the suspices of the Oxford Group will minister not to a mind but to a world diseased.

The meeting is to be held in the Knights' Hall. Listeners to the "Spiritual Mobilisation of Europe" may get what local colour they can from the fact that it was the scene of the denouement of Shakespeare's tragedy.

Members of the Oxford Group are often twitted with choosing beauty spots for their spiritual conferences.

Certainly Elsinore at this time of year is as pleasant a place as any in Europe.

OLD TITLE REVIVED

Master Of The Armouries

(Special Air Mail Service.)

London, June 14.

I Am glad to learn that the ancient title of Master of the Armouries is to be restored to the Tower of London, writes a correspondent in a London daily.

Mr. Charles Foulkes, our leading living authority on armour, has been in charge of the Tower collections since 1913 as "Curator."

Lord Dillon before him filled the office, with which the forbears of both were linked far back.

One of Lord Dillon's ancestors, that doughty Elizabethan, Sir Henry Lee, was Master of the Armouries from 1578 to 1611. Mr. Foulkes's ancestor, Capt. Fowke, was at the same period "Keeper of the Queen's handguns in the Tower."

According to Welsh pedigrees, Capt. Fowke was also "Warden of the White Tower"—the great keep. So the wheel of history turns full circle.

VORACIOUS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

It is in keeping with Mr. Ernest Brown's usual strenuousness that he will spend part of his first day as a Cabinet Minister in addressing the National Government demonstration at Himley Hall.

Mr. Brown believes in hustle. He is one of the fastest and quite the loudest speaker in the House.

While he expounds his views with moral earnestness, he always bases them on a secure foundation of facts and figures.

Among his fellow Cabinet Ministers not even Sir Samuel Hoare has a more rapacious appetite for official papers. He reads Hansard at breakfast.

He should prove a valuable second to Mr. Baldwin.

LESSON-SERMON

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, June 30, 1935.

The Golden Text was, "Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kindom of our God, and the power of his Christ." (Rev. 12: 10).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! For he hath broken the gates of brass, and cut the bars of iron in sunder. He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions." (Ps. 107. 15, 16, 20).

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Science taught in the original language of the Bible came through inspiration, and needs inspiration to be understood. Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible, and the divine origin of Science is demonstrated through the holy influence of Truth in healing sickness and sin." (P. 319, 146).

Measures Discussed At Central Bank

Shanghai, June 25.

Measures concerning the extension of loans to shops and factories in urgent need of financial assistance were further discussed by the authorities at the Central Bank. The Shanghai Commercial and Industrial Loans Committee subsequently held a meeting in the Manufacturers Bank of China when final approval was given to the regulations governing the committee. It is expected that an office will be set up soon to examine applications for loans.

A meeting of the board of directors and supervisors of the Ningo Industrial Bank (which closed on June 4, was called last Sunday, but, owing to lack of a quorum, it had to be postponed. Nine representatives of the creditors of the bank, at a meeting, decided to request the Ministry of Finance to appoint a representative to carry out the liquidation of the bank under the supervision of Mr. Lo Chun-mang, a delegate of the Ministry.

It was widely reported here that three native banks in Hankow closed yesterday. Several Chinese foreign-style banks were said to have sent cash up the river for the relief of the situation.

"$10 RAISE"

A static paycheck that won't budge, and an ecstatic romance at breaking point, are the two conflicting forces that battle in "$10 Raise," the latest Fox Film picture which will play on Wednesday at the King's Theatre.

A wheel-to-the-grindstone bookkeeper, suddenly sky-shot to the other of romance: comes back to earth with a bang when he counts the dollars in his paycheck. Too timid to tackle the boss, a Simon Legree of a slave-driver, the ledger-hound looks around for financial worlds to conquer beyond the bailiwick of his office cubbyhole.

Edward Everett Horton and Karen Morley are co-featured in this amusing business romance, which was adapted from an original story by Peter B. Kyne.

In this Joseph Engel production, romance shyly peeps through the humdrum routine of files, dictation, bookeeping, and the like. A timid office-broke man wakes up to the truth that love is more exciting than ledgers, and that the lack of a raise grounds his romance.

With this realization, he starts making things hum, with resulting escapades, mishaps and eventual good fortune.

THE GREAT FLIRTATION

"The Great Flirtation" is the new feature film which will be shown at the Alhambra Theatre to-morrow. It was produced for Paramount by Charles R. Rogers, and was directed by Ralph Murphy.

Elissa Landi, Adolphe Menjou and David Manners are the featured players and the orginal story was written by Gregory Ratoff, one of Hollywood's leading screen comedians. It tells the inside secret of the lives of stage celebrities whom he met in his many years of stage and screen acting.

"The Great Flirtation," which was written originally under the title of "I Married an Actress," is a stage story, but not in any sense a "back stage" movie. It tells the adventures that befall Miss Landi and Menjou in their pursuit for fame.

As the outstanding actor of the stage, a temperamental artist is in love with Elissa Landi, a young beauty, whose physical charms blind men to her exceptional talents.

She finally consents to marry him and they start for New York, where he pretends to have fine theatrical connections. Here Miss Landi, who never really loved Menjou, finds real love in the person of David Manners, a playwright.

BEFORE MIDNIGHT

An imposing cast was assembled for the mystery tarriler, 'Before Midnight," Columbia production opening to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre.

Ralph Bellamy, one of the most popular leading men in Hollywood, plays "Trent" the brilliant investigator who solves the enigma of the two deaths which occur before the mystified audience. Bellamy, who had once thought seriously of becoming a professional sleuth, was gratified at the opportunity to do some brilliant detection on the screen.

Lovely June Collyer, who had given up her career two years ago to marry Stuart Erwin, enacts the role of the young heiress.

Claude Gillingwater, character actor, is an ideal choice for "Fry" confidential secretary to the murdered millionaire. The part of his wife, a mysterious woman, was given to Betty Blythe, who will be remembered as one of the most glamorous of all screen sirens.

BABITT

"Babbitt" greatest of the Sinclair Lewis novels which brought to that distinguished author the honour of being the first American to win the Nobel prize in literature, is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Alhambra Theatre on Thursday.

Transferred to the screen with all its subtle humour, its philosophy its dramatic situations and its irony, and given a remarkable cast headed by Aline MacMahon and Guy Kibbee, the film version of "Babbitt" is expected to rival in popularity the book on which it is based.

Aline MacMahon and Guy Kibbee, who, as a team made such an impression in "Big Hearted Herbert," are the film's undisputed leaders in real comedy characterizations. Each is rated as a real star and Kibbee has been called "the perfect Babbitt" by no less an authority than the famous columnist O. O. McIntyre.

MISSISSIPPI

Joan Bennett is coupled in the romantic leads with Bing Grosby, who plays his new song and comedy starring role in Paramount's "Mississippi" which is playing at the Queen's Theatre, W. C. Fields is the third star in the cast and adds comedy to beauty and song.

With most of its action centred about the character of the bragging commodore, played by Fields, "Mississippi" is the story of a timid young Yankee who lost a Southern belle because he seemed to be a coward, but won the right one because he was actually brave.

A picture of the South in the days of crinolines and river steamers, "Mississippi" gives Crosby the opportunity to introduce four Rodgers and Hart tunes, including "Soon" and "It's Easy to Remember" as well as a special arrangement of that old favourite, "Swanee."

FAMOUS CHINESE STAR COMING

Miss Butterfly Wu Expected

The famous Chinese film actress Miss Butterfly Wu is expected to be in the Colony on Thursday, arriving by the s.s. Conte Rosso from Europe where she has been spending her vacation after attending the film Congress held at Russia.

Miss Wu's films have been proclaimed everywhere where they have been shown, and as lately as last month she was feted by the Chinese community in London.

During her sojourn in Moscow, Paris, Berlin, London and other leading European cities she was feted and shown over the principal film studios where she admired all the up-to-date modern equipment.

Miss Wu's schedule in Hong Kong is yet not known but elaborate plans are being made to entertain her while she is in the Colony. Film companies in Hong Kong will "shoot" scenes of her arrival here and a hearty welcome is awaiting her upon her arrival.

"Stolen Harmony"

Cast in the leading role of "Stolen Harmony," his new Paramount picture, (which opened on Saturday at the Alhambra), George Raft again turns to the type of characterisation that made him a star in "Scarface."

Starred with Ben Bernie and his band, Raft plays the part of an ex-convict who turns over a new leaf for a chance to join Bernie's band for a trans-continental tour.

He falls in love with Grace Bradley, the little dancer in Bernie's troupe, and for her sake determines to make good. But when the company's funds are stolen he is suspected of the theft. But Raft ignores their suspicious and is determined to see it through for her sake.

Raft's big change comes when the entire troupe is kidnapped by a desparate gang of outlaws. Raft, at the risk of his life, saves the troupe, vindicates himself and wins the girl to bring the picture to a dramatic close.

"Stolen Harmony" directed by Alfred Werker, and featuring a musical score by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, is very acceptable fare.—E.C.F.

KANSAS STRIKE

Galena, Kansas, June 29.

Two detachments of Kansas National Guards are rushing to Galena owing to an outbreak of violence arising out of a strike in the lead and zinc mines.

Twelve mine guards are at present beseiged in the office of the mining company. Strike sympathisers are pouring regular volleys of rifle and revolver fire into the wooden building, and the guards are unable to return the fire owing to the fear of shooting onlookers. The guards telephoned that no one had been injured so far and added: "The strikers will not rush us, because they know we are ready for them."—Reuter.

COMEDY DRAMA AT THE KING'S

Transatlantic Merry-Go-Round

Something rather new in broadcasting stations is shown in the sparkling musical comedy drama now showing at the King's Theatre. The locale of the film is a huge transatlantic liner and audiences can be assured of entertainment of a high class. The cast is headed by Jack Benny, Nancy Carroll and Gene Raymond and another who will prove of particular interest, is Mitzi Green in her first role for some time.

Benny is seen as the genial master of ceremonies, with Nancy Carroll as Sally March, the star of his troupe, who becomes the object of affection of a young Raffles, played by Gene Raymond. The songs are extremely catchy, "If I Had A Million Dollars" being one of the most pleasing.

Among the many screen and radio stars appearing in the picture are Frank Parker, The Boswell Sisters, Patsy Kelly, Jean Sargent and Jimmy Greer and his orchestra. Sidney Howard as one of the passengers on the boat, gives a fine display as the perpetually happy but harmless drunk.

I can heartily recommend the picture to all lovers of light, musical comedy.—N. A. E.

HIS GREATEST ROLE

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

Chaliapine's come-back in Paris after his serious illness is to be in the most famous of his roles—that of Boris.

In this part he has thrilled audiences in most of the great opera houses of the world.

The writer saw him before the war stir Covent Garden to a frenzy which even Miss Grace Moore has hardly equalled.

One of his performances, however, stands out from all the rest. This was when "Boris Goudonoff" was being performed at St. Petersburg on the evening of the declaration of war between Russia and Germany.

Going on his knees and facing the Tsar in the Imperial box, Chaliapine sang the Russian national anthem.

The effect, as may well be believed on that night of profound emotions, was overwhelming.

AUDIENCES OF THE KING

MacDonald And Baldwin

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

It was well enough known that both Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and Mr. Baldwin would wait on the King at Buckingham Palace, and one would have expected a crowd of people to be there to cheer them. But the hundred or so who had gathered before Mr. MacDonald left seemed to be mainly casual passers-by, stopping by the main gate to stare when they found others doing so.

Mr. MacDonald, who came half an hour after the House had risen at a quarter past three, drove in at the far gate, where only a few people were waiting. He had an expectant look as he gazed at them, as if he felt some word from them might relieve the tension of his mind, but they were silent as he passed. His audience with the King was a long one. Half an hour, an hour went by, and then some minutes later the door on which all eyes were fixed opened and the ex-Premier came out. The people at the gate pressed forward to gaze at him, and this time he smiled, but only one voice was raised in a cry of "Ramsay!"

The crowd said "There's no one else to see" and hurried away before Mr. Baldwin drove in, exactly three minutes later. He would have been pleased to know they had gone, for he dislikes being stared at, but he looked straight ahead with an expression of rigid gravity. One wondered whether he were recalling the day, about twelve years ago, when the arrival at the Palace of this little-known man so surprised the people who were waiting to see Lord Curzon. After his fifteen minutes' audience he drove away with an air of greater confidence than he had shown on that occasion.

LORD ZETLAND AND HIS TASK

Continuity Of Policy In India

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

Lord Zetland, the new Secretary of State for India, in a statement on taking office, said that he realised that the future constitution of India was already in shape, and that the task which fell to his lot was not to draft or to redraft a measure, but rather to aid in piloting an existing Bill through its final stages to the Statute Book, and thereafter to join with Lord Willington in bringing the new form of Government into operation.

"The credit for the Bill will remain for all time Sir Samuel Hoare's. Perhaps I should add that it has always been my view that a reasonable continuity of policy is essential in the relations between Great Britain and India. In this case continuity of policy will be easy and natural, for my views and those of Sir Samuel Hoare on the question of the Indian Constitution have been formed in almost complete sympathy with one another during the long process of investigation at the Round Table Conferences and by the Joint Select Committee, in which he and I have taken part.

INSEPARABLES

At his latest Queen's Hall concert, when Signor Toscanini stirred his audience to frenzied applause, one of his admirers discribbd him as a tragic figure.

The description was not altogether incorrect.

If not the sport of tragedy, Signor Toscanini is always an unhappy man when in London.

The reason is that he is separated from Pichou.

Pichou is the apple of Signor Toscanini's eye.

He travels everywhere with his master—except when quarantine regulations prevent this.

Pichou is not so popular with the great conductor's friends. These tell me that the only occasions when Signor Toscanini really becomes a tragic figure are when Pichou is lost.

As, though small, he is a freedom-loving dog, this not infrequently happens. Until he is found Signor Toscanini is swept by all the passions of all the symphonies.

FLOODS IN JAPAN

Tokyo, June 29.

A rainstorm, the heaviest for 23 years, originated off Korea and hit Northern Kyushu yesterday and Western Japan early this morning.

The hardest hit district was in the vicinity of Kyoto, where the rainfall was estimated at 260 millimetres. The eight rivers flowing into Kyoto all overflowed, submerging 12,000 houses, washing away 32 bridges, and drowning eight persons.

In Osaka 60,000 houses were flooded, leaving ten people killed and four missing. Some 165 houses collapsed and 20,000 were submerged.

Twenty bridges were washed away in Northern Kyushu.—Reuter.

YEOMEN OF THE GUARD

London, June 28.

A picturesque ceremony took place to-day at St. James' Palace, when the Duke of Connaught inspected the Yeomen of the Guard in celebration of the 450th anniversary of the founding of the Corps, members of which, in their old-world uniforms, are popular with visitors to the Tower of London, where they are on duty as custodians.

The Duke, who is an uncle to the King, conveyed a message of congratulation and expression of His Majesty's gratitude to the Corps for their services. The Duchess of York and her two daughters witnessed the ceremony.—British Wireless.

Yesterday enamels and other works of art produced £18,000. Rare stamps have also been responsible for much money changing hands, one collection sold, Bond Street alone fetching £10,000. Many art collections from abroad are finding their way to London auction rooms and several other important sales are pending.—British Wireless.

WEEK-END PICNICS

Thousands Enjoy Fine Weather

The favourable weather during the week and enabled thousands of people to go picnicking to various places by launch, and on Saturday alone no less than six different parties organised under their respective associations braved the hot sunny weather.

Launches under the Methodist Church, the Sailors and Soldiers' Home, St. Andrew's Choir, the European Young Men's Christian Association, the Kowloon Tong Anglican Church, and the St. Andrew's Club, respectively, left the Police Pier between 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. for their respective destinations.

The St. Andrew's Club with Mr. E. Fincher in charge, the Y.M.C.A. with Mr. E. F. Selk in charge, and the Sailors and Soldiers' Home party under the care of the Reverend E. Tribbeck, spent the afternoon at Big Wave Bay, while the St. Andrew's Choir, with the Reverend J. R. Higgs in charge, went to Joss House Bay.

Under the care of Mr. Lee, the Kowloon Tong Anglican Church party, spent an enjoyable afternoon at Clear Water Bay.

Shortly after 7 p.m. the picnic-makers returned to the Police Pier, after having thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Picnic To Cheung Chau

A picnic arranged by the committee of the Sports Club of the Kowloon Union Church was held at Cheung Chau on Saturday. MR. POHOOMULL HONOURED

Guest Of Hindu Association

There was a large gathering of the Hindu community and local Indian merchants at the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hotel yesterday afternoon when Mr. Naraindas Pohoomull, and his wife were the guests of honour at a tea party given by the Hindu Association. Mr. and Mrs. Lalchand Watanmal were also present.

Mr. K. B. Vaidya, President of the Association, welcomed the distinguished guests on behalf of the Hindu Association in the Colony, and stated "It is true that we are gathered here to-day under the shadow of one of the greatest catastrophies in the history of mankind, the Quetta earthquake, yet we have the consolation of knowing that we are to-day honoured by one of those, who, though himself away from the scene of the disaster, has been taking a lively interest in relieving the suffering of the people affected." Continuing Mr. Vaidya read the following address of welcome to Mr. Pohoomull from the Hindu Association:

We, the members of the Hindu Association Hong Kong, take great pleasure in extending to you and to Mrs. Naraindas our cordial welcome to the Colony. You are, Sir, one of those persons of our country, who, by their sagacity and persistent efforts, have helped to extend their business throughout the world. The fact of your being an Honorary Magistrate in our country shows the important position you enjoy amongst your countrymen. We know that nothing worries you more than the health of your countrymen; you have therefore set up a free dispensary in Hyderabad where thousands of patients from all places receive every month free medical service and free medicine. Your contributions towards the promotion of higher education have also been generous. It is gratifying to learn that you have thrown open doors of your Khiabad Residence Quarters for thousands of panic striken sufferers of the recent Quetta Earthquake, and that you have arranged through your people at Hyderabad to see that nothing is left undone to help those saved from the Quetta disaster.

May you and Mrs. Naraindas enjoy the full vigour of your health for many years to come is the ardent desire of the Hindu Community in this Colony.

In reply Mr. Pohoomull said: I sincerely thank you and the members of your association on behalf of my wife and myself for having honoured us, this evening, as well as giving us the opportunity to meet our Indian sisters and brothers. You have referred in your welcome address, in conspicuous terms, to some of my services rendered to the Indian community in Hyderabad which I believe I do not deserve, since charity does not know publicity. It is my duty to help those who are in need of help, as long as my circumstances permit me to do so. It is indeed very gratifying to my wife and myself to know that the local Hindus are absolutely active and alert in their duty towards their religion, and this you have demonstrated in the activities undertaken by you in establishing a Hindu crematorium and also the laying of the foundation of a place of Worship for the Hindu community. It is my fervent desire as well as that of my wife that God may bless you all and bring you the success to attain the early completion of the above buildings, towards which expenditure I and my wife are pleased to contribute our little bit. We wish to thank you for all that you have done for us in order to make our stay in this Colony pleasant, and enjoyable amongst your company.

Sentence of two months' hard labour was passed, on Leung Kim-siu, a 35-year-old unemployed, who appeared before Mr. E. I. Wynne Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday on a charge of breaking into No. 194 Reclamation Street, and stealing a suit of clothes and a metal watch, the property of Kwok Sin.

THE SOCIAL EVIL

The evil has gone and good will come by the termination of all licensed brothels which comes to an end to-day with the expiration of the six months' notice given by the Hong Kong Government at the begining of the year.

Three years ago the brothels boasted of no less than 170 inmates and at the time when the Government made its decision regarding the closure of these houses the number narrowed down to about 50. Then when the final six months' grace was given the number only amounted to 46 and on Saturday these called at the Secretariat of Chinese Affairs and turned in their licences—their mode of living at least in this direction, has been stopped.

Many of these girls have now turned to the "cabarets" while others have left for Macao, Canton, Kongmoon and other places.

Fines totalling $350, in default three months' hard labour, were imposed on Wong Chin, a 42-year-old unemployed, who appeared before Mr. E. I. Wynne Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday on charges of keeping a common gaming house and for having possession of 447 "po pui" lottery tickets at No. 295 Reclamation Street.

ANOTHER ARMED ROBBERY

A report of yet another armed robbery committed in an outlying district has been received by the Police on Saturday.

It appears that while Li Fung, a married woman of Ping Chau Island, Mirs Bay, was asleep in her hut, she was suddenly awakened by the noise of the main door being forced. Before she had time to say a word she was pounced upon by three men who were all armed with knives. Bound and gagged, she was reduced to helplessness while the robbers ransacked her belongings, takings away with them clothing and jewellery to the value of $127.

The robbers before decamping had her locked up, but the woman's screams and shouts attracted the attention of her neighbours who went to her rescue.

The robbers made good their escape in an unknown direction. The police have been given a description of the wanted men.

LANE CRAWFORD'S HAVE POOR YEAR

Sir William Shenton Reviews The Activities

"You will observe that the Profit on working for the period under review amounted to $81,364.93 as compared with $92,579.10 for the preceding year, or a decrease of $11,214.17. This decline is attributable to diminution in turnover, consequent upon the prevalent depression coupled with the rise in Exchange and the repercussive effect these factors bring to bear upon the spending power of our clientele," said the Hon. Sir William Shenton who presided at the thirteenth ordinary yearly meeting of Messrs. Lane Crawford, Limited, held on Saturday morning, on the first floor of Exchange building.

Supporting the chairman were the following members of the board of directors: Messrs. J. H. Taggart, E. M. Raymond and E. J. Davies and the following shareholders. Lt. Col. H. B. L. Dowbiggin, F. W. Stapleton, F. C. Barry, P. H. Suckland, O. F. Ribeiro Jr., A. M. d'Eca.

Chairman's Speech

Addressing the meeting Sir William said:—

Gentlemen,

Before proceeding with the ordinary business of this Meeting, I desire, on behalf of your Board, to place on rerord an expression of profound regret at the death of Mr. J. P. Warren. The late Mr. Warren joined the Board of this Company in March 1929, and served thercon until shortly prior to his death. During his period of office on your Directorate, Mr. Warren rendered valuable service to your Company, and his passing engenders a genuine feeling of regret.

The Report of your Directors and Statement of Accounts for the financial year ending 28th February 1935 having been in your hands for the prescribed period, I propose, with your permission, to treat them as read.

The Report of the Auditors is as follows:—

"We report that we have examined the Accounts of Lane, Crawford, Ltd. with the Books and Vouchers of the Company for the year ended 28th February 1935, and have obtained all the information and explanations we have required.

"Stocks, as certified by the management, are valued at cost, whereas the present market value, as the result of exchange fluctuations since the close of the Company's financial year, is considerably lower than the figure stated in the Balance Sheet. Subject to these remarks, we are of opinion that the Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Company's affairs according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the Company."

DIMINUTION IN TURNOVER

Turning to the Accounts, you will observe that the Profit on working for the period under review amounted to $81,364.93 as compared with $92,579.10 for the preceding year, or a decrease of $11,214.17. This decline is attributable to diminution in turnover, consequent upon the prevalent depression coupled with the rise in Exchange and the repercussive effect these factors bring to bear upon the spending power of our clientele.

Passing to the debit side on the Profit and Loss Account, the only headings appearing to call for comment are Repairs and Renewals and Depreciation; in the case of the former item, a material reduction in expenditure is displayed vis-a-vis the figures covering previous years, and in the case of Depreciation, the amount written off conforms to our established practice based upon the residual life value of the declining assets as detailed under the relative headings in the Balance Sheet.

The Balance Sheet in your hands reveals few changes, and you will observe that the fixed assets stand at the figure of $2,475,984.54, in which relation I desire to draw attention to the fact that additions during the year amounted to $6,728.03 only, evidencing the conservative policy pursued by your Board in the matter of capital expenditure. Whilst dealing with this subject, however, I deem it opportune to direct the attention of Shareholders to the fact that the necessity for replacement of certain of our fixed assets in the immediate future must not be overlooked. In this connection I refer more particularly to the decision of your Board to centralize the Bakery in a portion of the Basement premises in Exchange Building, and on effecting the requisite transfer, to bring this important department of your undertaking up to date, replete with the latest and most hygienic equipment.

STOCKS WRITTEN DOWN

Stocks and Goods in Transit have been valued by the management at cost and appear at the figure of $709,330.98 Shareholders will observe, however, that in the Report of your Auditors, annotation has been appended on the subject of the market value thereof, consequent upon the appreciable advance in Exchange. This matter has been receiving the serious attention of your Board for some time past and, as a result, it is the considered opinion of your Directors that the most prudent course to pursue in the circumstances, and particularly having regard to the nature of the business in which your Company is engaged, being essentially retailers calling for up to date goods and a quick turnover of Stocks, is to write down stocks to present day disposal values. With a view to giving effect to your Board's decision in this matter, it is deemed expedient that steps should be taken to completely reconstruct the Balance Sheet of the Company, in which relation your Board is in consultation with the Company's Auditors on the subject and it is reasonably anticipated that they will be enabled to lay their recommendations before Shareholders at an early date.

Proceeding with the other items on the Asset side of the Balance Sheet, it will be noted that Sundry Debtors represent a decrease of $25,382.40 as compared with the previous year which, in the main, is attributable to the decrease in turnover to which I have previously made reference. The decreases under the various other headings are resultant upon the incidence of depreciation—a subject with which I have also dealt.

DEPARTMENTAL REORGANISATION

Turning to the contra side of the Balance Sheet, certain repatriation of personnel, consequent upon departmental reorganization, made necessary the disbursement of $16,498.61 out of the Reserve created for that purpose last year, in which connection it will be observed that in the allocation of profit now proposed by your Board it is recommended that the balance of $3,501.39 remaining be supplemented by the sum of $6,498.61 in order to bring the amount standing at credit of Reserve for Staff Passages and Contingencies up to $10,000, thus making provision for contingencies maturing under this heading.

Mortgage indebtedness stands at the reduced figure of $1,900,000 as compared with $2,000,000 at the end of the previous financial period, being a reduction of $100,000.

Sundry Creditors are lower by $32,511.89 and these two headings read in conjunction with the increase in floating overdraft amounting to $52,563.76, display a nett reduction in indebtedness amounting to $79,948.13 for the financial year.

The Balance of Nett Profit, after applying depreciation, amounts to $23,534.88 which added to the balance brought forward from the previous year, makes a total of $35,013.38 available for appropriation, which sum your Directors recommend be allocated as follows:—

To Place to Reserve for Bad and Doubtful Debts	$ 5,599.13
To Place to Reserve for Staff Passenges and Contingencies	$ 6,498.61
To Place to Special Reserve for Building Improvements	$15,000.00
To Carry Forward to next account	$ 7,915.59

APPROPRIATIONS

Taking, seriatum, the headings of the proposed appropriations, it is the opinion of your Board that the Reserve for Bad and Doubtful Debts should be augmented to the extent indicated in order that the same should stand at a figure of $10,000 as a precautionary measure against possible contingencies.

The proposal to transfer $6,498.61 to Staff Passages Reserve is requisite for the reasons I have already indicated.

The provision of a Special Reserve covering Building Improvements in the sum of $15,000 is deemed advisable in view of the structural alterations undertaken in respect of the Basement and First Floor, consequent upon your Board's decision—following vacating of the Basement premises by the Hong Kong Stock Exchange—to transfer the Restaurant and Bakery to these premises and to incorporate therein the new Cake Department. In this connection it is proposed that rather than resort to amortization of such capital outlay over a lengthy period of years, it is preferable that the cost of the requisite work undertaken should be written off forthwith from profits.

As a result of the transfer and co-ordination of departments, it has been possible, as from 1st March last, to close down the Corner Shop in King's Theatre Building, thus effecting a saving of approximately $1,500 per month, and on completion of the change over of the Restaurant, which will be effective on 1st July next, the whole of the First Floor will be made available for office premises, in which connection and having regard to the continued popularity your Building enjoys by virtue of its central location and up to date accommodation, it is reasonably anticipated that little difficulty will be experienced in renting this space. The effect of the changes indicated will, apart from improving service to our patrons, reduce the rental charges carried by the Main Store and Restaurant, and the working accounts should resultantly benefit appreciably. I may, incidentally, add that it is proposed on re-opening the Restaurant in its new location, to revert to the name of Cafe Wiseman, the location and name being synonymous some twenty years ago.

STRICT ECONOMY

Throughout the year your Board has pursued a policy of strict economy, both in capital expenditure and overhead charges, the full benefit of which is not reflected in the accounts under review. The Hardware, Office Equipment and Shipchandlery Departments are being closed down by reason of the fact that such departments—due to intensive competition—have outlived the period of their profit producing capacity. As a result it will be possible to foster the business of those departments working on a profitable basis, but hitherto hampered by lack of requisite floor space permitting of expansion.

In conclusion, I would express thanks to the staff for their loyal co-operation covering a period of much difficulty.

I now beg to formally propose that the Report of the Directors and the Accounts for the financial year ending 28th February 1935 as presented, be adopted, and that the appropriations recommended by your Directors be carried into effect.

SECONDER'S SPEECH

The accounts and report was seconded by Mr. F. W. Stapleton who said:

We have listened with interest to the remarks made by our chairman but I regret to note that for the second year in succession there is no dividend available.

I hope that the proposed reorganisations of the Company will bring the desired benefits. With these words I beg to second the report and accounts as presented."

OTHER BUSINESS

The re-election of Mr. E. M. Raymond as a director was confirmed on being proposed by Lt. Col. B. L. Dowbiggin and seconded by Mr. P. H. Suckling.

Messrs. Linstead and Davis were re-elected auditors for the ensuing year at a remuneration of $1,750.00 on the motion of Mr. F. C. Barry seconded by Mr. A. M. d'Eca.

CAFE WISEMAN

At the termination of the meeting the Chairman invited those present to inspect the new Cafe Wiseman. The gathering were shown over the well-equipped and modern establishment and everything pointed to a successful career for that Cafe. Those present were unanimous in their praise for the condition and state of the Cafe which included an up-to-date "Automatic Coffee Boiling Pot."

The decorations which were effective and unique were in the capable hands of Messrs. Lane Crawford and the pleasing effect of the colour scheme will readily catch the eye. All in all this new innovation will undoubtedly prove to be a popular rendesvous. It is opening to business as from today.

THE SANITARY BOARD

At the meeting of the Sanitary Board to be held to-morrow a letter from the Government relative to the election of Dr. Li Shu Fan as a member of the Sanitary Board for a term of three years, will be considered.

Mr. Wong Kwong Tin, pursuant to notice, will ask:—

"In view of the decision of the Board to refuse the registration of a Food Preserving Establishment at No. 441, Castle Peak Road, Lot No. 1538, on account of the failure to surface a large drying ground with cement will the medical Officer of Health kindly say whether it is his intention to recommend similar conditions in all cases where fruit is dried out of doors in such establishments?"

The President, pursuant to notice, will move an amendment to the Scavenging and Conservancy by-laws contained in Schedule B. to the Public Health and Buildings Ordinance, 1903.

Other routine business relating to applications for eating house licences and regular returns will also be transacted.

MR. LALCHAND ENTERTAINED

Guest Of Sindh Merchants

Mr. Lalchand Watanmal, the well known Indian philanthropist, Municipal Councillor and Honorary Magistrate for Hyderabad, Sindh, who is on a business and health trip to the Far East was on Saturday night entertained with his charming wife to a dinner party by Messrs. K.A.J. Chotirmall & Co. at the Gloucester Restaurant.

Upward of fifty persons including the prominent Sindh merchants in Hong Kong and their wives partook of a sumptuous dinner.

After the dinner Mr. G. T. Thadani, the General Manager of Messrs. Chotirmall in the Far East, who presided at the function said:

Mr. Lalchand:—It gives me great pleasure to welcome you and your wife here this evening. We know how busy you are but notwithstanding this you graciously honoured this function with your presence.

I am also pleased to see so many of my country people with us on this occasion and am also honoured by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Nairandus Pohoomull.

It would be beyond our scope to enumerate the various good qualities with which he is endowed and it is through his guidance, his foresight and abilities that the success of his firm is so firmly established. It would be invidious to mention the various philanthropic acts he had performed throughout his life.

Mr. Lalchand Watanmal

Mr. Lalchand is here this day for reasons of health and I am sure you all will join with me in wishing him a quick and speedy recovery. I am glad to see, however, that he has now improved a good deal and I trust the Almighty would grant him a full recovery.

Brothers and Sisters, I ask you all to join with me in drinking to the health of our honoured guests.

Returning thanks on behalf of his wife and himself Mr. Lalchand said:

Mr. Thadani, Brothers and Sister: My wife and I are thankful to you all for the honour which you have done us. I am happy to see a gathering of so many of my own people.

I am afraid Mr. Thadani has somewhat stretched the good deeds which I am supposed to have done. Believe me, what I did was part of my duty and I am sorry that I could not have done more. This reminder will act as an impetus to my future and I can assure you all that whenever opportunity knocks at my door I will avail myself of it.

I would very much like to meet you all more often but for reasons of health I am afraid I cannot do so. I have improved a good deal since coming to Hong Kong and I must admit that the climate of this Colony suits me to a "T." I have therefore made up my mind to remain on these hospitable shores for a couple of weeks more.

It is indeed a pleasure to me to see Mr. and Mrs. Pohoomull with us this day.

Once again I thank you for the hospitality and honour which you have accorded to my wife and I.

HONG KONG, JULY 1, 1935.

SCIENTIFIC MARVELS OF THE REIGN

At the Jubilee luncheon of the Society of Engineers, Sir Frank Smith asked what was the most wonderful technical achievement of the last 25 years and he himself answered the question by selecting the thermionic valve which enabled millions of listeners the world over to hear the broadcast speeches of the King. There are others, no doubt, who would make another choice, according to their bent of mind and, in fairness to Sir Frank, it must be stated here that he did not profess to cover the whole field. For instance he said nothing of aeronautics which have realised dreams that men have cherished almost since the beginning of recorded time, while he only dwelt, in passing, on the photographic miracles that have given the cinema and the illustrated newspaper. Of course these may have been ruled out of the discussion since their history during the King's reign is rather that of remarkable development than of new discovery. The thermionic valve was known before 1910 but there was no broadcasting station in which it could be used and where there was not a single listener in those far off days, they are now counted by the tens of millions.

Nobody will dispute that broadcasting and other wonders, made possible by the thermionic valve, have added enormously to the amenities of life, but whether its permanent value to mankind is as great as that of other achievements is the point on which issue will be joined. The discovery of methods of extracting nitrogen from the air in quantity has removed any fear of famine consequent upon the exhaustion of other fertilisers, for the work of the chemist in this direction has added value to the medical achievements which have increased the average expectation of life by six and a half years. Without the prospect of greater food supplies, this addition to population would have been a calamity rather than a source of satisfaction. In estimating the greatest contribution made to human advance, quite apart from technical achievement, it may be well that the chemist will be given precedence over the electrician yet the claim of the latter is not exhausted by his harnessing of the electron. The efficiency of electric lighting has been multiplied many times over. Transport has been revolutionised and the power for industrial plant has been made available for towns and villages at long distances from its source.

The engineer, with his wonders in construction and the metallurgist, who had given us steel that will machine glass and provide dies so hard that wire and steel tubing can be drawn from them endlessly, are not forgotten by Sir Frank. To-day a motor car can be built by eight persons in a week whereas 14 years ago as many as fifty-five person were required to make a car, so strong or efficient. It will be seen then that the expert must be left to decide as to which department has placed mankind most heavily in its debt. Every branch of science owes something to the others, and the value of each be assessed by no one scale of measurement. In short the achievement in twenty five years has been so rapid and so great that men have not been able to adapt themselves to the new conditions. Half the problems in economics that are troubling the nations are a direct result of the pace at which the scientists have thrust their inventions on the world. An outstanding need is a statesmanship that can utilise all invention and discovery, for the problem that the scientist has set but has not yet solved, is the fitting of his marvels into what the world has come to regard as its ordered schema of life.

SEVERE LOSS TO NAVY

The Passing Of Sir Charles Madden

Though he had retired from active service five years ago, the death of Admiral Sir Charles Madden is a severe loss to the Royal Navy.

He was frequently consulted by the Admiralty after his retirement. Lord Jellicoe paid a high tribute to him when he said, after Jutland, that "his judgment was never at fault."

Royal Salute

During the war he once received the unexpected distinction of a Royal salute.

The guard and band were paraded on the quarter-deck of the Iron Duke, ready to receive the King. The officer of the watch saw a figure in naval uniform coming alongside in the barge.

He gave the order for the Royal salute. As the figure came up the gangway the band played "The King."

It was Admiral Madden, who in uniform bore a striking resemblance to the King and in private life was a great personal friend of his Majesty.

Sir Charles was Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic Fleet while his son was a cadet at Dartmouth.

Whenever the cadets' training cruiser Thunderer came into the same port as his flagship he would ask a few cadets to tea.

After a hearty meal they would return to the Thunderer feeling that they had made a life-long friend.

V.R.C. SWIMMERS RETURN

Successes Achieved In Canton

A happy band of Victoria Recreation Club swimmers returned to the Colony yesterday, after having swept the board in Canton, winning every event of the programme except the 200 meters breaststroke, which was won by Lay Chi San.

The Victoria Recreation Club sent up a team of swimmers to Canton, where they were entertained by the Canton Aquatic Club, arriving at Canton during the night. Yesterday the swimming contest commenced at 1 p.m., and good times were recorded considering the water was warm and the distance measured in meters instead of yards.

The Results

The results were as follows:—

50 meters Free Style (I) W. Lawrence (V.R.C.); (2) Wong San Son (Canton); Time: 28 seconds.

200 meters Breaststroke: (1) Lay Chi San (Canton); (2) E. M. Marques; Time: 3 mins 7 secs.

200 meters Team Race: (1) V.R.C. Team: W Lawrence, J. A. Guterres, H. L. Osorio, S. V. Gittins.

100 meters backstroke: (1) L. Roza Pereira (85 secs), (2) J. A. Guterres. Time 85 secs.

100 meters Free Style: W. Lawrence (V.R.C.), (2) L. Roza Pereira, (3) Wong Sau Son.

Mr. "Monkey" da Roza gave a fine exhibition of fancy diving, which was well received by the large crowd present.

An extra race was swum, in the form of an exhibition 400 meters between L. Roza Pereira and W. Lawrence, which the latter won by a few yards.

WATER POLO GAME

The final item on the programme was a polo game between the visitors and Canton, which the former won by four goals to two. At Half time they led by two clear goals, but Canton drew level soon after the interval. However, the Hong Kong lads scored twice again to eventually emerge worthy winners.

During the morning, the visitors were shown around Canton, and were also entertained to a fine tiffin, given in their honour.

MISSING AGAIN

George Goldin (15) is repored missing from the Aberdeen Industrial School since 7.30 p.m. yesterday. This is not the first time this boy has been reported missing. It will be recalled that he appeared before the local Magistrate recently when he was ordered to the Industrial School by decree of the Courts.

EUROPEAN SHOT THROUGH CHEST

Tragedy On Customs Cruiser

A shocking discovery was made yesterday morning on board the Chinese Maritime Customs cruiser "Haihsing," when the body of Mr. Thomas Strellet, civil engineer employed by the Customs, was found shot through the chest. A gun with expended rounds was lying by the side of the dead body.

Circumstances surrounding the discovery, point to the deceased taking his own life. The first inking that something was miss was given when the door to his cabin was found locked. In spite of repeated knocks to draw the occupant's attention, no response was forthcoming. Becoming alarmed, the crew lost no time in getting in touch with the Police.

Inspector Elston arrived soon after and at 12.45 p.m. effected an entry by smashing open the doorway.

Deceased was aged 43, being a native of Scotland. He has been in the Chinese Maritime Customs for some years past, and was very popular with his colleagues.

The cruiser "Haihsing" is laying in mid-stream off the Kowloon Docks, were she has been undergoing her annual overhaul.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Severe Methods By A Chinese

The gallant rescue by a fireman from the fire float stationed near the Mongkok Ferry Wharf, saved the life of Ho Man Cheung who after slitting his throat with a razor blade, dived overboard from the Mongkok Ferry, in an effort to drown himself.

The unfortunate man was kept afloat by commendable action of the fireman who immediately went to the former's rescue, as soon as the alarm was raised.

The Police have been endeavouring to get in touch with relatives or friends of Ho Man Cheung, about 29 years old, but so far without success. The latter has given several addresses, the occupants of which, however, disclaim any knowledge of him.

Another case of attempted suicide was reported to the Police, when a woman jumped into the harbour off Blake Pier yesterday afternoon. She was rescued by a boatman from one of the motor boats moored in the vicinity.

If Gossip We Must

(BY "OGPU")

August in London, and July in Hong Kong are deliberate conspiracies against gossip writers. In both cases people of importance whether local, or metropolitan, rush into the most secret places of the earth and hide their shingled heads in the sand. This seems to be particularly so this year. All the dear little things, all the stern faced guardians of Empire seem to have placed their toothbrush and a change of underwear in a cabin trunk and departed for the North. Chinwangtau, Tsingtao, Chefoo, and most of all Japan; the gaily coloured labels glitter on the piles of luggage and leave us the almost insuperable task of dragging items of social interest from an empty and socially uninterested town.

A NEW TROOPER?

The military in pacticular seem to have made the universal exodus to the North. The Empress of Russia, which departed on Friday, carried a boatload of officers and their wives on their annual pilgrimage away from the gloomy furnace of Hong Kong's summer. Over the hospitable bubbles of a horse's neck, I saw Capt. and Mrs. Murray Lewis bound for Japan. Capt. and Mrs. Jimmie Carter of the Gunners were also on board: I was very glad to see Mrs. Carter somewhat recovered after her recent serious illness. Janice and David Kayll (tennis correspondents please copy) were on their first bout of leave. Mr. and Mrs. Homes had gone the day before, and prospective departures in the next week include a number of people who are socially prominent. Lady Shenton and Yvonne are bound for a three months' holiday in Japan and the North. Joan and Gerald Portman are going to Tsingtao. Mrs. Stanley Dodwell and her three charming daughters, (Anne by the way, has just had her appendix plucked out by the roots) are spending two months in Chinwangtao. Mark Wilkinson is bound for an unknown destination in the North. Mrs., Betty and Heather Gerrard also take the trail in a few weeks.

There are barren days ahead, I can see. Tied to the typewriter, I must stay and swelter in Hong Kong. I have a gloomy vision of rushing from the Hong Kong Hotel to Repulse Bay desperately trying to identify unknown blondes who are "looking lovelier than ever."

The Japanese Ambassador to China presenting his credentials to President Lin Son

THE NEW POLO CLUB

Why, is it, that our old friend, Polo, which was such a stand-by last year, seems to have dropped out of the betting in the race for social prominence? Of course I know that the Club has been moved Causeway Bay to the Kowloon side, which is further and harder for most people to reach, but it is surprising the number of people who, although last year took a keen interest in polo have not yet found the way down to the polo ground in Kowloon Tong. It is well worth a visit, and is to my mind, one of the prettiest grounds east of Hurlingham.

The first tournament match started last Wednesday. The Welsh Fusiliers beat the Lincolns, and the Staff beat the Gunners. There was excellent polo, but not many spectators. Among the female supporters who were there, I remember seeing the sisters Fair, always interested in matters equestrian. Barbara and Heather Hance (keep your eye on the ball, boys), Harry and Peggy Thoyts, and Mrs. Gough. Mrs. Williamson watched her husband play an excellent game for the Staff.

COMING EVENTS

Actually, on thinking it over, the gossip horizon is perhaps a little brighter than I made it out to be. On Monday the Lincolnshire Regiment are giving one of their popular cocktail parties, and on Friday, July 12 a big event is to take place when Lady Southorn opens the long-heralded Lido at Repulse Bay. After that we shall have to wait patiently until he Hong Kong Bank throws open its spacious, but rather low, doorway to show us all where they intend to keep our overdrafts in the future.

(BY "WIRELESS")

Although it is somewhat late, I must take this opportunity of saying "goodbye" to Miss Webster, formerly of Lane Crawford's Ladies' Salon who has gone away on retirement after some 15 years service with them. During that time she has done a lot towards making this establishment one of the most popular rendezvous for members of the fair sex, and her many friends will miss her so. I wish her all the happiness and prosperity in her retirement. At the same time I would like to welcome Mrs. Moodie Heddle who is now "No. 1" at the Ladies' Salon and she has had vast experience in the same business in Australia, I am sure she will prove to be quite acquisition to them.

Mrs. Moodie Heddle, with her charming personality, has in fact already made herself a popular favourite with a large number of people here. She is seen about a lot in social circles and is always in popular demand. Popularity known as "Tu Lizzie on more classy Lady Heddle.

CAFE WISEMAN

Do you remember the good old day's when Cafe Wiseman's was the most popular meeting place in town? There was always such a crowd there especially at tea time and then in the old days there used to be an interval at all 9 p.m. houses at the cinemas and many took advantage of this 10-minutes break to snatch cold drink or one of their ever-popular "ice-coffees."

Lane Crawford's Restaurant have now re-adopted the old name and it is to be hoped that with the old sign, the good old days will be resuscitated. They will transfer from the first floor to the basement and with Mr. George Bond, popularly known as "Georgie" (and his equally famous "jazz piano") as their "tai pan" Cafe Wiseman should once again be the meeting place No. 1.

VIEWS ON A BETTER UNDERSTANDING

Future Of Franco-German Relations

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1934. Received, June 30, 7.30 p.m.)

Frankfurtmain, June 30.

An important announcement of the possible future of Franco-German relations, suggesting possibilities of better understanding on both sides, is published by the "Frankfurter Voksblatt" whose Paris correspondent reports an interview with the Chairman of the Committee of Foreign Affairs of the Senate, Henri Berenger.

Berenger based his remarks on Herr Hitler's last great political speech which the French senator described as "monument of diplomatique," declaring that in order to obtain any concrete results it is essential to "let bygones be bygones." Having done with the past it will be a question of dealing with the knotty points of the present.

All territorial questions were disposed of by the unequivocal result of the Saar plebiscite. The Reich Chancellor has repeatedly confirmed this before the German people and the public of the whole world. Moreover the men of authority in New Germany, like Rudolf Hess, Goering, Frick, Goebbels, and Von Ribbentrop have made similar declarations. "We have grounds for doubting the sincerity of the assurances received and I personally," added Berenger, "do not question their genuineness for an instant. But of course recognition of territorial possessions most apply to the French Colonial Empire as well.

"It is particularly propitious that the Reich Government adheres to the Treaty of Locarno which secures peace in the West. The Reich Government expressed fears that this treaty would be narrowed in its application by the agreement of May 2 between the French and Soviet-Russian Governments. The French Government will take steps to dispel the German uneasiness on this score."

PACT SYSTEM

Berenger then declared that as regards the French pact system he understood the German standpoint. It is easy, he said "to appreciate the unwillingness of the German Goaernment to become involved in a system that might later involve the participants in a war with which the Germans had nothing to do, consequently one in which it would have no inclination to sacrifice one single German soldier.

"The number of French politicians who view the present pactomania with mixed feelings are by no means few, and I myself have been one of them since the summer of 1934 when I made my objections known."

AUSTRIAN QUESTION

Berenger considers that the Austrian question presents no insurmountable difficulties. "Of course," in interpolated, "Germany has no right to claim annexation of Austria."

When the correspondent pointed out that the Reich Government only demands that the German people in Austria should have the right to self-determination, Berenger admitted that no objections could be raised to that.

Turning to the armament question Berenger expressed the view that both sides should be entirely free to act as they thought fit. "Only strength inspires respect" he commented. But that did not exclude the possibility of determining that state of equilibrum in armaments between Germany and France. France would be prepared to give impartial consideration to any German proposal in this direction.—

BANKING ACT IN U.S.

Amendment To Be Introduced

Washington, June 29.

The "New York Times" Washington correspondent learns that an important amendment to the Banking Act of 1935 under which the banks will be permitted to underwrite new securities which will be exempted from the civil liabilities imposed on underwriters under the Securities Act of 1933 has been adopted by the Senate Banking Sub Committee which has just finished revising the new Bill.

The amendment which has been urged on bankers for some time as a means of reopening the capital market will go a long way towards restoring the banks of deposit including the J. P. Morgan Company. Their share of the securities were taken away by the Banking Act of 1933. The latter made it unlawful for any bank or similar organisation to receive deposits and at the same time engage in the business of issuing, selling or underwriting securities. The J. P. Morgan Company in consequence gave up the security business and became a deposit bank.

The Securities Act of 1933 provided that underwriters as well as issuers and merchandisers of securities might be sued by purchasers if the registration statement of issue contained any untrue statement of or omission of material fact.

The new amendment while providing banks may underwrite new issues of securities, both stock and bonds, does not permit banks to sell securities either wholesale or retail.—

CHINA'S CURRENCY PROBLEM

Anglo-American Interest

Washington, June 28.

Because it is feared that Japan may be seeking to control China's currency, it is believed that Great Britain and the United States may take some action to prevent it. America is making an unofficial study of the effect of her silver policy upon China and the Silver Bloc in the Senate is campaigning for more activity on the part of the Treasury in following out the purchase programme in respect of the white metal. These are the latest developments in the silver tangle.

Well-informed official sources disclosed to-day that Mr. James Moffett of the Federal Housing Corporation is making a study for President Roosevelt of the effect of the American silver policy upon China.

The White House denied that Mr. Moffett had been delegated officially to make a formal study. It is explained that Mr. Moffett went to President Roosevelt with plans for a vacation cruise to China and the President suggested that while in China he might observe conditions and report to him after his vacation.

"PURELY INFORMAL"

The whole affair is described as purely informal.

However, one Senator who has been following the silver situation closely, said the effect of the American policy upon China has been bad, but that the situation was getting better.

Elsewhere it was said that the British Government was making a close study of the silver situation with a view, it was believed, to approaching the United States for a monetary conference.

One private source said that the British Government felt that Japan was endeavouring to gain control of China's currency and that unless joint action were taken by the United States and Great Britain this was quite likely to come to pass.

PRESSURE BROUGHT

Meanwhile, thirty-four Senators have signed a petition to President Roosevelt asking that the American silver policy, as laid down by the Administration, be carried out fully.

The Silver Bloc in the Senate declares that unless it can obtain more vigorus Treasury action, the inflationary Frazier-Lemke Farm Bill will be pushed.

Senator Thomas is endeavouring to gain additional support for the petition. His goal is said to be forty members of the Senate.—

SAFEGUARDING U.S. GOLD

Vaults Being Built Inland

Washington, June 29.

Secret orders have been given for rapid construction of subterranean vaults at Fort Know, the Kentucky Army post. Considerable precautions are being taken with a billion dollars worth of gold now held in New York and Philadelphia.

Officials reluctantly disclosed that the structure is being built in accordance with the policy of moving the gold reserve from vulnerable coast cities to more isolated inland territory.

This policy already resulted in the recent shipment of nearly three million dollars in gold from San Francisco to Denver.

The completion of the new project would mean that the Rocky Mountains on the one side and the Appalachians on the other would separate the nation's monetary basis from any possible attacks from either seaboard.

INCIDENTS AT FRONTIER

Soviet-Japanese Friction

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1934. Received, June 30, 4.30 a.m.)

The grave incidents occurring in the Russo-Manchurian frontier near Pogranitcznaja in the last few days are now officially announced here.

On June 23, for instance, forty Japanese soldiers commanded by two officers crossed the frontier and penetrated several miles into Russian territory.

Again on June 28 another group consisting of forty infantry and sixty cavalry belonging to the 3rd battalion of the 68th Japanese regiment crossed into the Soviet territory, remaining there several hours.

The Soviet frontier guards observed the actions and movements of the Japanese soldiers but were order to remain passive to avoid causing further complications. Subsequently two further incidents were reported when the Manchurian river gunboats entered Soviet waters, River Amur.

Semi-officially, it was announced on Saturday night that Litvinoff had sent a note to the Japanese Government, protesting in the sharpest terms against the repeated frontier violations at Pogranitcznaja, demanding first that steps be taken to prevent any further cause for complaint, and second, that those Japanese soldiers and officers who had penetrated Russian territory be severely punished. Moreover, Litvinoff intimated that the Japanese note received here recently about the frontier incident on May 22, was unsatisfactory to the Russian Government and demands further explanations.—

TRAVEL LAWS IN POLAND

Danzig People Affected

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1934. Received, June 30, 4.30 a.m.)

Warsaw, June 29.

The decree just published by the Polish official Gazette will virtually prevent the people of Danzig from travelling by rail to places in Poland and makes transport of merchandise from Danzig to Poland impossible as long as the currency restrictions in Danzig continue.

Persons leaving Danzig can only buy railway tickets to the Polish frontier a few miles away and then must pay in Zloty for the ticket for the further journey. The Danzig people are only allowed to take 20 gulden over the frontier, and obviously cannot pay for Polish rail tickets at the border.

As regards transport of goods, the freight must be prepaid in Poland on the consignments destined for Danzig while on the goods passing from Danzig to Poland, prepayment of freight in Zloty is insisted upon, which, however, under the existing currency regulations is utterly impossible.

In practice, the Danzig people likewise are precluded from travelling by rail towards Germany, and also since the railways in the Free City belong to Holland, the tickets in gulden are only procurable as far as the frontier station.—

Jubilation broke out spontaneously among the hosts and guests at a festive gathering in old Rathaus, which is the City Hall here on Saturday night, when at 11 o'clock Herr Hitler unexpectedly appeared and joined the convivial throng. The assembly's purpose was to give a fitting close to the inauguration ceremonies of the "House of German Art" which was honeured by the personal attendance of the Fuehrer earlier in the day.

At the so-called "Bunter Abend" that is "jolly evening" the hosts were the City Councillors of Munich who had invited not only the Board of Management of the House of German Art but also those workmen who had any art in constructing the building itself.

Hitler's appearance gave a richer significance to the event and symbolised the closest unity that now exists between the brain and hand workers of the Third Reich.—

CONCESSIONS IN BUDGET

All-Round Benefits In Britain

London, June 29.

Two concessions made in this year's Budget comes into effect on Monday July 1, and will benefit by salary restoration and wage increases more than 3,000,000 people. The chief of these concessions restores economy cuts, made at the time of the 1931 financial crisis in the pay of Civil Servants, members of defence forces, Teachers, Police, Insurance, Doctors and Chemists, Judges, Members of Parliament and Cabinet Ministers. The cost to the Exchequer will be £4,000,000 in the present financial year. This payment marks the recognition of the end of the depression period.

The second budget concession abolishes entertainment duty on all admission payments under sixpence, while duty on such payment over sixpence, will be reduced in theatres, music-halls, and other places where there are living performers. This will cost the State about £2,250,000 during the current year.

In a full year all these concessions will be equivalent to £8,500,000. During July at least 1,500,000 workers in great industries, will also receive wages increases. It is in fact, estimated that July will be the best month for wage advances both in the number benefitting and amount involved for a decade.—

Omar and his men, with the win by Bradbury' four enabled them to obtain the two points. Their "B" team too was victorious, to the tune of 34 shots, while a runaway victory was scored by their team in the junior division. By beating J. Purvis' rink by 32 shots, W. Ward's Craigengower four (W. English. W. Atkins and W. Phelps) created a new record for Second Division rinks this season. J. Cavanagh was another skip whose rink won by a large margin, defeting J. McKelvie's rink by 25 shots. Sixes were registered by rinks skipped by G. E. F. Thompson, A. Brooksbank, and W. Ward.

THE TENNIS LEAGUE

Interesting Matches Promised

Due to to-day being a holiday, the Mixed Doubles tennis match between the United Services Recreation Club and the Chinese Recreation Club both potential champions has been postponed until Thursday when the two giants will battle it out for supreme honours.

Both teams are very well balanced with L. Goldman and Miss Hancock of the U.S.R.C. about the best of the six pairs. The other two pairs of U.S.R.C. are also to be relied upon and everything points to them to get at least a set each to make matters certain

C.R.C. although playing quite well are not so convincing as their rivals. At the time of writing it is not known whether their lady stalwart Mrs. Chiu will be able to play and if she is still on the "Casualty list" Miss Rose Rumjahn will once more be deputising for them.

This game ought to produce thrilling and exciting tennis and perhaps it would be too bold in saying that the U.S.R.C. ought to win.

In the "A" Division tomorrow one of the most interesting matches to the seen to date will be the clash between the Indians and the Chinese on the former ground. The Indians have only the Rumjahn cousins to depend upon for their sets and there is every likelihood of the Chinese winning by 6 sets to three.

The C.R.C. is at present playing as well as could be expected and under the circumstances they ought to pull the game round. Unless the Rumjahn cousins split up their partnership there is just a likelihood of their being able to stem the Chinese attack.

The Craigengower — U.S.R.C. clash ought also to be a close affair. Both teams are about of equal calibre and the result will be a very even one Recreio "A" should just about make it in the match against the H.K.C.C. Though possessing young players they are all to be depended upon and their stamina will stand them in good stead.

The C.R.C. "B" should get away with both points from the Recreio "B".

AMERICAN PAIR SUCCEED

Japanese Beaten At Wimbledon

London, June 29.

In the third round of the Doubles, Allison and Van Ryn (U.S.A.) disposed of the Japanese pair Yamagishi and Nishimura by scores of 9-5, 7-5, 6-1.

The Japanese put up a magnificent fight for two sets against storming tactics by the Americans who were the previous winners of the title. The Japanese led 3-1 in the first set and 5-4 in the second, but Yamagishi dropped his service game without a stroke and thereafter the Japanese offered no serious threat.

Allison and Van Ryn were superb in their volleying and swept the Japanese off their feet, leading 5-0 in the third set. They reproduced the form which won the title in 1929 and 1930 and should win again.—Reuter.

THE LAST EIGHT

London, June 29.

There was a continued heat wave in the result of to-day's matches for the last eight in the Men's Singles which turned out to be Fred Perry, Menzel, Jack Crawford, Sidney Wood, Budge, "Bunny" Austin, McGrath and von Cramm.

Menzel had a thrilling duel with Maier of Spain before winning 6-3, 6-0, 0-6, 6-3, both leaping all over the court and leaving nothing to go by without trying hard to return it.

Crawford beat Hughes 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. Austin beat the New Zealander, Andrews 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-0. Sidney Wood beat Hopman of Australia 6-1, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, but none of these three winners appeared in his best form. McGrath beat Nigel Sharpe 6-1, 6-3, 7-4.

WOMEN'S SINGLES

The American players Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Miss Helen Jacobs beat the Britishers, Miss Noel and Miss Lyle respectively, Mrs. Wills Moody winning 6-1, 6-3, and Miss Jacobs 7-5, 6-1.

Miss Scott, the Suffolk Girl, gave the French champion Mde. Mathieu a hard fight, but the Frenchwoman won 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.—Reuter.

MISS SCRIVEN LOSES

London, June 28.

The first upset in the Wimbledon tournament occurred to-day when, in the third round of the women's singles Mrs. Fearnley Whittingstall, who a few months ago had almost decided to retire from first class tennis, defeated Miss Peggy Scriven, one of the three seeded English girls, 6-3, 6-2.

This was the more surprising in view of the recent performances of Miss Scriven, whose play this year has been markedly improved.

Miss Katherine Stammers, British hard court champion, continued to play aggressively and gave the best performance of her career when she eliminated the Chilean star. Senorita Anita Lizana. The English girl won, 6-2, 8-6.

Other third-rounders to advance were Miss Jean Saunders, Britain, who defeated the British international player, Miss Mary Heeley, 6-2, 6-4, and Miss Joan Hartigan, who beat Mlle. Meulemeester of Belgium, 4-6, 6-1, 10-8. Miss Dorothy Round beat Miss Hargraves, also of Britain, and so went to the last sixteen.

PERRY ADVANCES

Fred Perry, the holder, swept on into the quarter-finals, when he accounted for Pallada of Yugo-Slavia, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

He was accompanied in his advance by the youthful American star, Donald Budge, who beat the great Frenchman, Boussus, ranked No. 1 in France, by scores of 6-3, 6-2, 2-6, 6-0.

The other promising American youngster, Gene Mako, was beaten, however. The German champion, von Cramm, playing one of the most classical games seen at Wimbledon, gave one set to Gene Mako but took his three with a loss of only two games. The score was 6-0, 6-1, 3-6, 6-1.—Reuter.

SOUTH AFRICA ALL OUT FOR 228

England Lose Two Wickets For 75

In the second Test Match, which opened at Lords on Saturday, South Africa won the toss, and, batting first, scored 228. They were saved from a complete collapse by a great innings of 90 runs by H. B. Cameron, their vice captain, who gave a chanceless display.

R. E. S. Wyatt and Sutcliffe opened England's innings, and at the close of play England had lost two wickets for 75 runs.

A crowd of 15,000 had assembled in gloriously fine weather when R. E. S. Wyatt lost the toss to H. F. Wade, who elected to bat on a fast and perfect wicket.

The South Africans dropped Tomlinson, Viljoen and Vincent in favour of balaskas and Bell, bowlers, and Dalton, a sound bat. The England team was as previously announced, with Clark of Northants, as twelfth man.

Siedle and Mitchell, as expected, opened the South African innings, Mitchell being very lively at the start. He followed up a three off Nichols with a couple of boundaries off Wyatt to score 21 out of the first 25 runs. Wyatt then made his first bowling change, Mitchell, the Derbyshire slow bowler, relieving Nichols.

The change met with almost immediate success, as, with only two runs added, Siedle was beaten by a top spinner from Mitchell after a painstaking innings. 27—1—6.

MITCHELL OVER CAUTIOUS

Mitchell forsook his earlier enterprise when joined by Rowan, and the 50 was hoisted only after 70 minutes play. Batting very cautiously, Mitchell paid the penalty for such a drastic change of style when, in playing forward to Nichols, he was given out l.b.w. under the new rule. 59 2—30.

Rowan had now become set, and when David Nourse was bowled when playing back to a good length ball from Verity he had scored 21 of the 62 runs that had been scored for the loss of three wickets.

Wade, the South African skipper, decided to take the responsibility of playing out the dangerous half hour before luncheon, and by dogged batting remained with Rowan until the interval, which was taken with the score at 79 for 3, Rowan being 27 and Wade 10.

ROWAN'S PLUCKY INNINGS

There were 18,000 present when play was resumed after lunch. England met with an early success, as with only 18 runs added Rowan, in attempting to glide a ball from Verity to the leg, was nicely taken by Farrimond. 98—4 40.

Rowan batted for 105 minutes, hitting only one boundary in the course of an invaluable fourth wicket stand of 36 runs, scored in 38 minutes.

Cameron joined Wade and the 100 was sent up after 165 minutes. Wade stonewalled for over after over, but Cameron set about the bowling in a lighthearted manner, hitting a six over square leg's head off bowling that had hitherto been so steady that it had been almost impossible to score.

KING ARRIVES

His Majesty the King arrived at 3.15 p.m., just in time to see Wade brilliantly caught by Hammond in the slips off Langridge 158-5-23. Wade had played a true captain's innings, his stone-walling tactics being just what were required.

Not in the least perturbed by the loss of his partner, Cameron hit three glorious sixes off Verity, Mitchell, and Langridge to complete his 50 after 37 minutes at the crease.

Included in his half century were three sixes and four boundaries, while he scored 52 of the 60 runs added in partnership with Wade!

Dalton was dismissed when Langridge accepted a hard return at 187, the newcomer having looked set at this period with 19 to his credit.

PLAYERS PRESENTED TO KING

Following the fall of the sixth wicket the players were presented to His Majesty.

Only nine runs had been added on the resumption when Balaskas fell a victim to Verity's wiles 196—7—4.

With Langton partnering Cameron the 200 went up after 220 minutes, and tea was taken without further loss at 222 for 7, Cameron being 89 and Langton 3.

His Majesty left during the tea interval, but there was a crowd of 30,000 present when play was resumed. The South Africans met with early disaster for after two runs had been added, Cameron's stout-hearted effort came to an end when he had his stumps spread-eagled by an in-swinger from Nichols. 224—8—90.

Giving a chanceless display, Cameron batted for 105 minutes, scoring four sixes and six boundaries.

The end was now in sight, and four runs later Langton was taken low down by Holmes at first slip off Hammond. Without addition Bell was cleaned bowled by Hammond, the innings thus coming to a close at 228 after 255 minutes.

ENGLAND BATS

R. E. S. Wyatt and Sutcliffe opened England's innings. Disaster came early. In the fourth over, with the score at 5 only, Sutcliffe was given out LBW, under the new ruling to Bell, after having scored only 3 runs. 5—1—3.

Leyland then joined Wyatt, who was playing faultless cricket, timing his strokes excellently.

Leyland fell a victim to the wiles of a googly from Balaskas after having knocked up a useful 18 when he appeared to be fairly well set. The partnership had yielded 41 runs in 45 minutes. 46—2—18.

Hammond was next man in, and he was not troubled in the least by the bowling which he drove with forceful strokes. He had scored 12 when stumps were drawn for the day. Wyatt was still unbeaten with a total of 42 runs.

England's score a close of play was 75 runs for 2 wickets.

LAWN BOWLS COMPETITION

This Week's Matches

Several very interesting ties in the open Singles and Pairs of the Lawn Bowls Competition are down for decision during the week.

The most notable game will be the clash between J. C. Brown and H. Rosario. Rosario has been playing very week of late. He has a knack of pulling himself out of the fire whenever occasion demand and is as cool as a cucumber. Brown is a man of great capabilities and has a great deal of experience behind him.

The victor of C. B. Hosking—C J. Tacchi match is pitted against H. Overy and this game ought to be a close affair.

The young Indian player Z. M. Rumjahn is meeting one of those giants in the person of A. Hyde-Lay. Rumjahn has been playing consistently but in Hyde-Lay he will find a master.

U. M. Omar will have something to think about when he meets J. V. Ramsey on Thursday. Ramsay is quite capable of holding his own, and he should give Omar a good game. Other interesting single ties are those between J. K. Sloan and E. el Arculli, W. B. Muskett and G. N. Mitchell.

THE PAIRS

One of the best pairs game should be on view on the Kowloon Bowling Green to-morrow. The Craigengower pair R. F. Luz and H. Beer meet the formidable Recreio pair in F. X. M. da Silva and C. G. Silva. Both pairs are on tip top form and a very close and exciting finish will be the result. The winners of this tie will probably provide this year's champions.

Last year's champions and runners up are also to be seen in action. A. W. Grimmitt and F. Jones (the holders), are meeting strong opposition from M. J. Medina and J. Cavanagh while W. K. Way and A. S. Gomes (runners-up), will find plenty to do in their match against R. and L. A. R. Duncan.

OPEN RINK COMPETITION

In the only open rink game yesterday a team from the Kowloon Bowling Green composed of J. L. Tetley, W. E. Hale, D. W. Waterton and M. J. Henderson defeated the Hong Kong Electric team consisting of A. F. Paul, J. K. Sloan, R. C. Butler and A. P. Tarpuck, by 17 shots to 13.

The game was a very close affair, with the winners trailing behind most of the game until at the 18th head when, by scoring a three they were able to overtake their opponent's score and led by 14 shots to 12. The losers up to this head had been having the better of the exchanges.

From this stage the winners never looked back, scoring two on the 20th head and a single on the 31st, as against a single by the losers on the 19th head.

The losers were playing a better game during the early stages but bad luck robbed them of victory towards the close.

For the winners Henderson played a consistent game throughout, with Butler, the loser's No. 3, doing most of the damage for the losers.

THE AQUATIC INTERPORT

Tientsin Unable To Make Trip

It will be recalled that the Victoria Recreation Club sent invitations both to Shanghai and Tientsin to participate in a triangular Interport swimming contest and a damper to these plans has been received by the V.R.C. from Mr. T. S. D. Wade, Hon. Secretary of the Tientsin Amateur Swimming Association, who writes regretting Tientsin's inability to participate in the Interport, owing to the time necessary for trip.

No further news have been received from Shanghai but it is thought very likely that a team will be sent down this year.

An invitation has been received by the V.R.C. to visit Macao on Sunday, July 14 to participate in a carnival in order to assist the Macao Hockey Club's attempt to foster swimming in the Portuguese colony.

It is unfortunate, however, that this date follows that on which the Club's second night fete is being held, and while there is every indication of the V.R.C. sending a team of swimmers, this will not be representative of the real strength of a Colony side, as it is probable that the best swimmers may not be available.

The matter has not yet been before the Swimming Committee, but if the date proposed by Macao is not suitable an alternative date may suggested.

The chief attraction in the proposed gala at Macao, is an open Men's Medley race for teams of four.

NAMED AFTER THE YEARS

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

The 1900 Club has cast its net widely for its annual dinner on June 27. There will sit down at the same table such exponents of different shades of political opinion as Mr. Winston Churchill, Sir Robert Horne, Mr. Walter Runciman and the Duchess of Atholl.

Lord Londonderry will be in the chair and Lady Londonderry will receive the guests.

The Club was founded after the Tory debacle of 1906 to keep together those who had been in the 1900 Parliament and had lost their seats.

WEEKLY MEETINGS

It meets once a week at its own premises in Ryder-street, where a paper is read and a discussion follows. As the general political feeling of the Club is High Tory and the paper is read after dinner, the discussion is usually lively.

Of other clubs which take their names from the years of great political events, the Eighty Club the oldest. This was founded to commemorate Gladstone's victory in 1880.

The most recent is the 1932 Club, formed by Socialists who lost their seats at the last election as the result of what they considered to be bad leadership.

BERLIN BOURSE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, June 28.

Business brightened on the share market on Friday largely because arrangements for the monthly, which incidentally was also the half-yearly settlement, was completed, and the approach of next quarterly interest payment on fixed interest securities prepares the way for new investing activities.

It was noticable, however, that the stimulation of business was confined to the share market, fixed interest securities being becalmed, prices in general were steady but certain provincial loans dropped as much as 3/4 point.

Call money 3 1/2 to 3 3/4. Young Loan unquoted on Thursday stood at 104¼, Reichsbank soared 4 to 187½, Dye Trusts was unchanged at 149 7/8, Salzdetfurth Potash jumped 1½ to 178, German Steel Trusts rose ½ to 835/8, German Mineral Oils dropped 23/8 to 110, Siemen-shalske weakened 7/8 to 176, Bemberg Rayon declined ½ to 118½.—Transocean, Kuo Min.

Dorsetshire's Close Win Over Radios

A goal scored early on gave a scratch eleven from the H.M.S. "Dorsetshire" victory over the Radio Sports Club in a fast hockey game played at Caroline Hill on Saturday. Mid Cameron, playing inside-left for the winners netted during a melee, this early success being most fortunate as a draw would have been a fairer indication of the run of the game.

Lt. Lane and Sub. Lt. Ackery made auspicious debuts into local hockey circles, by their splendid combinaton on the right wing. The latter was given a Navy trial at Home, and on Saturday showed himself possessed with a good turn of speed, which had the Radio defence on pins and needles.

Only the magnificant goal-keeping of U. B. Souza, Interport Trialist, kept the score from being greater in favour of the sailors, but to counterbalance this, it must be recorded that had S. Singh, the Radio pivot been less selfish and distributed the ball with better judgement, the civilians might have pentrated the Navy defence and scored. As it was three glorious opportunities to do so, were thrown away when Singh attempted solo efforts instead of passing.

The teams were:

H.M.S. Dorsetshire:—Mne. Clark; Mr. Scrutton and Comdr. Garside: Mech, Thomas, Lt. Baker and Ldg. Sig. Nicholls; Lt. Lane, Sub. Lt. Ackery, Lt. Bartley, Mid. Cameron and A. B. Evans.

Radio:—U. B. Souza; W. J. Chanson and J. S. Grewal; J. H. Tavares, M. H. Hassan and W. A. Tavares, M. H. Hassan and W. A. Souza; N. B. Kitchell, Surgin Singh, Sarnagat Singh, J. M. Tavares and R. Ayock.

EXCHANGE RATES

Paris, June 28.

A demand for "provisional" stabilisation of exchange rates on gold is contained in a monetary resolution to be submitted to tomorrow's final plenary session of the Congress of International Chambers of Commerce.

The resolution, which is a compromise between the viewpoints of Britain and gold standard countries, declares that stabilisation on a gold basis is imperative for world economic recovery, and it therefore urges the principle that Governments concerned should inaugurate immediately consultations for provisional stabilisation, so as to enable them to take the most speedy measures to adjust their national economic and financial policies to assure functioning of an international gold standard over a long period.

The compromise is expected to be voted unanimously.—Reuter.

Accommodating

Sheridan was being worried by a long-suffering creditor to name a date for payment.

At last Sheridan said: "Very well, the day of Judgment. But no, stay that will be a very busy day. Make it the day after."

School Days

"What is geography?" asked the father who was testing his son's progress in study.

"Geography" replied little Jimmy Jiggs, "is what you put inside your trousers when you think you are going to get a whipping."

BERLIN BOURSE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, June 29.

A festive air prevailed in the bourse on Saturday when the 250th anniversary of its foundation by the grand elector of Brandenburg was fittingly celebrated.

Business was brisker than usual on Saturdays, attention concentrating itself chiefly on the special types of shares, above all, those known for regularity of dividends such as Reichsbanks and Dyetrusts. This improvement of the market is attributed to the Coupon Day when holders of fixed interest securities receive quarterly interest of payments. Fixed interest security market fell, while Gold Mortage bonds, however, were livelier.

Call Money stood at 3¾, and Young Loan was at 104, but it was unquoted on Friday. Reichsbank jumped 3¾ to 190½, Dyetrusts rose one to 150½, Salzdetfurth Potash improved 1½ to 179½, German Steeltrusts was ¾ firmer at 84½, German Mineral Oils advanced ¾ to 110½, Siemenshalske jumped 2 to 178, and Bemberg Rayon declined ¾ to 118.

Although throughout the week, the actual business transacted remained at a low ebb, the share prices kept firm and in many cases underwent an appreciable improvement. This was all the more remarkable because the price level was already high. The demand, though small, was greater than the supply as holders were unwilling to part with their good stock. One element affecting the business is the holiday season and glorious weather resulting in the general exodus from the cities, buyers being thus few.

Confidence was promoted when the official statistics were published, showing considerable sales of coal to industry by the Rhine-Westphalian Coal Syndicate. Friday and Saturday saw the prices soaring, especially for the standard shares with fixed dividends. For one thing monthly in this case, the half yearly settlement of accounts was passed off without a hitch, for another, the recipients of quarterly interest payments on fixed interest payments on fixed interest securities proceeded to reinvest.

Fixed interest security market throughout, remained dull, but most of the prices ended a trifle firmer than at the beginning of the week.—Transocean Kuo Min.

INSURANCE ACT UNWISE

Dr. Ma Explains

Shanghai, June 25.

The new Chinese Insurance Act which has just been passed by the Legislative Yuan discriminates against foreign insurance companies. Dr. Ma Ying-chu, has explained the motive of the new legislation as a precautionary measure to prevent the export of Chinese capital abroad. Mr. T. L. Shen, Chinese manager of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Company of Canada, in a press interview made a comment which has been published in several local Chinese papers—the translation of which follows:

"Life insurance is a modern institution. It eliminates the uncertainties of life, protects the home, ensures education for the children, and encourages the habit of saving.

"Life insurance companies, founded on the principle of mutual benefit to the human race, answer a very vital social need. Foreign companies have been transacting insurance business in China for over forty years. They have done a good deal of pioneering work in educating the public to the value of insurance. In view of the failure of several Chinese companies, a very large number of Chinese—including many prominent political and financial leaders—have taken out policies with foreign companies. In recent years, several Chinese insurance companies have been organized on modern lines. Due to their short history, they are still not in a position to compete with foreign firms.

A Better Way

"Perhaps the Government enacted the new legislation with the protection of the new companies in mind. To my mind, it would be far better for the Government to try to strengthen the standing of Chinese companies than to limit the activities of foreign companies. I recall the days when our people used to deposit their funds with foreign banks. Since the establishment of modern Chinese banks, the Chinese are turning to Chinese banking institutions for the safekeeping of their savings. This change has taken place without interference on the part of the Government.

"Another obvious instance is the electric appliances business. The Wason and other Chinese electric companies are manufacturing excellent electric fans. Not only the Chinese are using them to their satisfaction, but they are also bought by foreigners. During the past year a large quantity even found a ready market abroad; but before the Chinese succeeded in perfecting the making of fans, the products of "Edison," "Siemens" and "G.E." companies rendered some very valuable service to those who had to work during the sweltering weather. There was no reason why China should ban the importation of foreign made fans, just because she could not produce them herself. If the Chinese insurance companies will adhere to scientific management, considering that only a small portion of the vast field has been touched, their business will grow rapidly. Once they gain the confidence of the investing public, not only will they be patronized by the Chinese, but they may also extend their activities to foreign lands."
